TROOPS MOVING TOWARD CUBA

One Expedition Probably All That Will Be Necessary to Maintain Order.

MARINES ALREADY THERE

GREAT ACTIVITY IN THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

Washington, Sept. 30.-American troops now are moving toward Cuba. Mobilization of the forces will be at Newport News, Va., for the most part, although a part of the expeditionary force to Cuba will be sent from New York and Tampa, Fla. Advices received at the departments of the military today indicate that all is quiet in Cuba and that the insurgents intend to lay down their arms. The probability is the United States forces in the Island will be landed only as a precautionary measure. So far as officials are advised no trouble of a serious kind is anticipated, but in accordance with instructions from President Roosevelt hurried preparations are being made for the sending of an expeditionary force of the army to Cuba.

The first American troops will be landed at Havana next Saturday. Meantime, the marines and blue jackets from the American fleet in Cuban waters will protect American interests and support Secretary Taft, the provisional governor of Cuba, in the preservation of order and the protection of life and property.

Annexation? News, Va., for the most part, although

Annexation?

In official circles here American intervention was regarded as inevitable. How long it may continue, it is impossible for to fortell. The nature of the intervention and the propositions for it indicate a supervision of Cuban affairs on the part of the American government for an indefinite period. Arrangements have been concluded not only for the expeditionary force to Cuba of about 5,600 men, but for a second force of equal numbers. No orders for the mobilization of the second force, of course, have been issued, but if the men are needed all arrangements have been completed for hurrying them to Cuba at the earliest possible moment. have been completed for hurrying them to Cuba at the earliest possible moment. Whether more troops than are included in the first expedition will be sent to Cuba will depend upon the developments in the island during the next ten days. It is certain, however, that a sufficient force of American troops will be maintained in Cuba to support the provisional government and to insure security to life and property pending the establishment of a stable government by the Cubans.

Three of the crew of twelve were drowned. The other nine, after a terrible experience in their yawl boat, landed at Cedar Point at 2 o'clock this morning.

General Ainsworth, military secretary, and General Bell, chief of staff of the army, worked throughout the day, concluding arrangements for the departure of the first expeditionary force to Cuba. Orders for the movement of the troops were sent out last night, but today scores of orders were sent to officers who are on leave to join their regiments.

Transports Are Ready.

General Humphrey, quartermaster general, practically closed arrangements today for transports which are to convey the expedition to Cuba. The ships will be ready for departure before the troops have been mobilized at Newport News. If it should be necessary to send a sec ond expeditionary force to Cuba immediately following the first, the war department apprehends some difficulty on account of the quarantine laws of the various southern states. A transport re-turning to any southern state from Cuba will have to remain in quarantine five days before it can take on a cargo or for Cuba. The war department has taken up this matter with the authorities of the southern states in the hope of arranging for a waiver of the five-day quarantine regulation.

Secretary Taft, as the head of the president's special mission to Cuba, has available nearly 5,000 marines and blue-jackets, who could be landed on Cuban soil in a few hours in case of emergency. Other marines are en route to Cuba, and will be available for emergency service in two or three days.

Will Arrive Saturday.

It will be a full week before the forces of the army can be landed in Cuba. first detail of troops will leave New York on Wednesday on board the army trans-port Sumner. They will arrive at Havana on Saturday afternoon next. It probably will be several days later before other troops of the first expeditionary force of the army will be able to reach Cuba. Where they will be landed is yet undetermined. It is likely they will go to Havana, but their precise destination will not be determined until practically the hour of the sailing of the transport.

UNG SCOTCHMEN LOSE $10,200 IN A BUNCO GAME

Lured Into "Hokey Pokey" Game, They Are Afterwards "Arrested" and Robbed by Bogus Officers.

Warrants for "Jim" Donaldson and Others -- Chief Sheets Makes Settlement.

Alexander and William McWhirter, two young Scotchmen, were "fleeced" out of $2,000 in Salt Lake Sept. 18 last. Then $8,200 more was taken from them by bogus officers. Alexander McWhirter brought one of the bogus officers, who gave the name of Bell, to the police station, and reported the case to Chief of Police George A. Sheets. The chief turned to the bogus officer and asked if he could not get back part of the money. This "Bell" said he would do. Later there was a private conversation in the hall between Sheets and "Bell." The chief came into the room and turned over to McWhirter $750 out of the $10,200 "swag." The McWhirters asked for the balance. Sheets had another private conversation with the bunco sharp, who "came through" with $250 more. The brothers were refused any more of their money. The bunco man shook hands cordially in parting with Sheets and his confidential detective, George R. Raleigh, and left. Neither officer made any attempt to arrest the bunco man, who was allowed to take the Scotchmen to the train and see them safely out of town.

Out of the $10,200 booty, $9,200 was left to be divided. Alexander and William McWhirter, two young Scotchmen, were of town.

Out of the $10,200 booty, $9,200 was left to be divided.

Chief Sheets admitted yesterday he had made no effort to capture the criminals. In fact, he appeared to resent questions on the subject.

The picture of "Jim" Donaldson, a Salt Lake gambler, was identified by both brothers as that of one of the men who took their money. Donaldson was under consideration for some time by Sheets as a detective to "handle" the gamblers, "sure thing men," pawn brokers and others of a class willing to offer inducements for police protection. It was reported that Sheets gave as his reason for not trusting Donaldson for this work that Donaldson is addicted to the use of opium. Donaldson has always denied having this habit, but he failed to land the job. George R. Raleigh was duly installed as chief of detectives to do the confidential work of Sheets.

Nevada authorities have been asked to arrest Donaldson, and other men connected with the case are being sought by Sheriff C. Frank Emery and his deputies.

The Utah statute on compounding or concealing crimes is as follows:

"Every person who, having knowledge of the actual commission of a crime, takes money or property of another, or any gratuity or reward, or any engagement or promise thereof, upon any agreement or understanding to compound or conceal such crime, or to abstain from any prosecution thereof, except in the cases provided for by law in which crimes may be compromised by leave of court, is punishable as follows:

"I—By imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five years, or in a county jail not exceeding one year, where the crime was punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for life.

"2—By imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding three years, or in the county jail not exceeding six months, where the crime was punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for any other term than life.

"3—By imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by fine not exceeding $100, where the crime was a misdemeanor."

The McWhirter brothers were immediately searched, and from Alexander McWhirter was taken $8,200, for which he was given a receipt by the alleged officer whose name is Bell.

Go to the Police Station.

Bell, after failing to give his prisoners the slip, took them to the police station, where they told of their loss. Chief of Police George A. Sheets smiled when he heard their story. Bell's connection with the robbery was explained to Chief Sheets, but he took no cognizance of it. To Chief Sheets Officer Bell agreed to get back what money he could. Sheets took the description of the men who participated Chief Sheets talked privately with Bell in the hallway. He came into his office and handed to Alexander McWhirter $750 in gold. The brothers were not satisfied with this amount. Bell promised to get them $250 more. Half an hour later he returned and Chief Sheets had another private conversation with him McWhirter and his brother, as the man in the hall. The $250 was turned over who was introduced as a prominent to the Scotchmen by Sheets. They "doctor" of Salt Lake. The brothers told the story of their experiences in a game called "hokeypokey" in Salt Lake to the conjuctor of the train. He immediately advised them to go to Attorney Davidson of the Salt Lake Route in Los Angeles and tell him the story. They did so, and Attorney Charles O. Whittemore of Salt Lake was wired about the case. Mr. Whittemore turned the case over to Attorney M. P. Braffet, who investigated it. The sheriff's office was notified of the circumstances, and Alexander McWhirter was telegraphed to come back to Salt Lake at once. His brother arrived yesterday afternoon, and the case is being probed by Sheriff C. Frank Emery, his entire force of deputies and County Attorney Parley in the game, while Bell went out to get the money.
